

KANGAROO PELLETS

Nutritional supplement for Australian herbivores including kangaroos, wallabies & wombats.

Australian herbivores eat a range of native grass & plants providing a high fibre diet, rich in anti-oxidants. However, in captivity they are often fed pellets or grain mixes made from high-starch cereals. This can lead to dental problems (eg Lumpy Jaw) and poor digestive health.

Benefits of Wombaroo Kangaroo Pellets

High in Fibre: Abrasive fibre promotes chewing action and maintains good digestive condition.

Low Starch: reduces dental and gut problems associated with cereal grain diets.

High in Anti-oxidants: Vitamin E, Selenium and carotenoids reduce oxidative stress and support immune system.

Low in Oxalates: oxalates present in plants such as lucerne can bind dietary minerals and form urinary tract stones. A low oxalate diet may assist mineral absorption and urinary tract health.

Directions: Feed Wombaroo Pellets as up to 15% of the diet. The majority of the diet should be pasture, hay & browse, depending on the individual species' requirements. Avoid feeding large amounts of high-sugar fruit, starch (grains, bread, root vegetables) or high-oxalate fodder (eg lucerne).

Feeding Guide: based on pellets making 15% of energy intake

Weight (kg)	Feed (g/day)	Weight (kg)	Feed (g/day)	Weight (kg)	Feed (g/day)
0.5	5	6	35	30	120
1	10	8	45	40	150
2	15	10	50	50	175
3	20	15	70	60	200
4	25	20	90	70	225

1 metric cup = approx. 120g pellets.
